Five times bigger The new post office

By Lynne Locke

The difference between Upland's new and old post offices is like the difference between night and day, according to George Prentice, officer in charge of the post office while Postmaster Charles Welch is on sick leave.

"Upland had outgrown the post office. It was inadequate to meet community needs," he commented. The new post office at 333 E. Arrow Highway is 24,000 square feet — nearly five times larger than the old post office which was built in 1959. The new post office cost more than $1 million to construct.

The new building of split-face block construction has a separate box lobby open 24 hours a day. The post office also doubled the number of boxes from 506 to 1,192.

Prentice said the business lobby has more counter space and is large enough to "handle just about any amount of business. Additional parking for the public and employees is another advantage of the new building.

The parking lot and entrance have been constructed with wheelchair ramps for handicapped people and the building is equipped to accommodate handicapped employees, he noted.

The post office staff previously was split into two sections with one group of letter carriers working out of a nearby building. Prentice said the new building has room for all the carriers under one roof as well as room for growth.

"It's really rewarding to see the people who've always worked in the old post office have nice conditions," he commented. After working "elbow to elbow" in the past, the employees are learning a "whole different way of operating," he added.

Prentice said the problem of communicating in such a large building will be solved by an intercom system. Other modern features of the new facility are increased dock space for large bulk mailings, a two-level dock with adjustable ramps and a gasoline pump.

The new building has an employee training room, and a lunchroom and locker room for employees. Interior and exterior lighting are also better, Prentice said.

The post office grounds are landscaped and have an automatic watering system. Prentice said the grounds are fenced for better security after business hours.

After new furniture arrives and old furniture is painted, the post office will hold an open house with tours of the facilities. The open house will be one of the few opportunities the public will have to see the working sections of the post office, Prentice noted.

The building was designed by the U.S. Corps of Engineers and Arrowhead Engineering was responsible for on-site work. Berry Construction Co. of Upland was the contractor.

Prentice said North American Van Lines "really did a great job" moving the postal equipment in 11 hours May 10. "The way the employees cooperated with the move was really a big help," he added.

Prentice said the postal service is replacing inadequate post offices as quickly as possible. "Through our service we can let the public know how we appreciate this new building," he added.

Scenic routes, noise, seismic, public safety

Council adopts general plan elements

By Lynne Locke

The Upland City Council Thursday night approved scenic routes, noise, seismic and public safety sections for the city's general plan.

The council's acceptance of the new guidelines is "the first step toward identification of problem areas and an indication that Upland will work to improve those conditions," noted Planning Director Rod Anderson.

The California State Planning and Zoning Law requires each county and city to adopt noise, scenic highways, seismic and safety guidelines. San Bernardino County officials formulated guidelines for the county and each city to accept and implement.

The first goal of the noise guidelines is to control noise from vehicles, trains and aircraft. The negative impact of noise can be reduced "by providing good land-use planning and design" around transportation facilities, the county report said. The noise section sets noise standards for different zones.

The goal of the seismic and public safety section is to protect the public from death, injury and damage to property from earthquakes, floods and fires.

The county report said, "A good understanding of geologic, flood and fire hazards is step one in ensuring an adequately safe, hazard-free environment."

The scenic route section provides guidelines for growth and development without losing scenic resources. "There is ample land to accommodate orderly growth and, at the same time, protect the roadside scenic beauty that contributes so much to the character and quality of life," the county report stated.

Local routes eligible for scenic route treatment include state route 31 from Upland to the junction with the proposed Devore Freeway; Baldy-San Antonio Falls Road; Cucamonga Flood Channel from Cucamonga Canyon to Prado Regional Park; and the Old Spanish and Mormon Trail from the Inyo County line through San Bernardino to the Los Angeles County line.

Also Thursday night Harry Hedges of 353 E. 11th St. asked the City Council to take action on stray and barking dogs. Hedges said he has called the animal control officer repeatedly to solve the problem.

"The chief of police said he wouldn't have his men bothering with stray dogs," Hedges said. "I'd like to see a higher priority put on the leash law. If the dog situation is out of hand, why doesn't the City Council raise the tax to give us full protection?" Hedges asked.

Mayor Abner Haldeman said, "We also have criticism from people who say we're entirely too firm, but I think this problem can be ironed out."

In other action Thursday night the council:

—Awarded Don's Electric of Upland a $4,180 contract to install outdoor lights at Upland Junior High School athletic field. The field will be used by Pop Warner Junior Football League and American Youth Soccer Organization for night practice.

—Awarded W. D. Gott Construction Co. of Ontario a $11,987 contract for installing electrical and telephone lines along the Howard Access Road from Benson Avenue to city property which is planned for light industrial use.

—Approved expenditure of $224,000 from general revenue-sharing funds for Police Department operations and $10,000 for purchase of two fire engines. City Manager Lee Travers said $60,000 had already been approved for purchasing the fire engines.

—Approved a 5 per cent pay increase for fire, general service and miscellaneous employees. Mayor pro tem John McCarthy said the city would like to give a higher raise, but "we're scraping bottom now to come up with 5 per cent."

Upland housewife honored

An Upland housewife was awarded the first "Good Neighbor of the Year" award by the San Bernardino County chapter of the American National Red Cross.

Before an audience of 200 volunteers at the Organization's Annual Meeting at a San Bernardino Restaurant last week, Mrs. Wilfred Wells was surprised to hear chapter board chairman Don Harris, say, "It is my pleasure to introduce the first recipient of this Chapter's 'Good Neighbor of the Year' award inaugurated tonight to honor and recognize an outstanding person in our Chapter. In the past eight years," Harris continued, "during which we have succeeded in uniting the vast areas of this great county into one strong, vital Red Cross Chapter, we have frequently honored one volunteer who has literally excelled in practically every Red Cross Program."

Keynote speaker Robert H. Finch, former member of the Board of Governors of the American National Red Cross, former lieutenant governor of California and former Secretary of Health, Education and Welfare, echoed the congratulations extended to Mrs. Wells and referred to the Red Cross as a "family" of Good Neighbors banded together to serve their communities throughout the nation.

7 WAYS TO CUT YOUR AIR CONDITIONING COSTS.

KEEP TEMPERATURE AT 78°

During hot summer months, you can cut air conditioning costs substantially by cooling a room—or your whole house—no lower than 78°. It could cost about 30% less for air conditioning if you keep the temperature at 78° instead of 70°. If you use a room air conditioner, hang a thermometer on the wall. Check it to see that the room temperature drops no lower than 78°. Remember, air conditioning is not to make you cold—just comfortable.

INSULATE YOUR HOME

If you do not have insulation in your attic—or if you have too little—you could be using up to twice the energy necessary for air conditioning your house. (More energy to heat it, too.) Insulation can be blown into most attics. It's an investment which merits your consideration. For information, see your local insulation contractor. And don't forget to weatherstrip doors and windows.

3.

CONSIDER AN AUTOMATIC TIMER

Timer attachments are available that will turn off your room air conditioner when you go to work and turn it on before you come home.

4.

INVESTIGATE AN ENERGY-SAVING UNIT

If you're in the market for a room air conditioner, compare the Energy Efficiency Ratio (EER) numbers. The higher the number shown, the more cooling you get from the electricity you use.

COOL ONLY ROOMS IN USE

If you have a room unit, keep all doors closed to the room you're cooling. Of course, no matter what system you use, whenever you air condition keep the outside doors and windows closed throughout the house.

KEEP THE HEAT OUT

When the children (or family pet) go out, don't forget to close the door. Keep the windows closed, too. And draw your draperies and blinds. Outside awnings or other sun screens will also reduce your cooling needs.

7.

KEEP EQUIPMENT CLEAN

Clean accessible parts, but be careful not to damage them. Check filters every month and clean or replace as needed.

The cost of electricity has been going up, primarily because of the soaring cost of the foreign oil we must buy to burn in generating plants. The increasing costs of oil and the additional amounts we have had to buy are responsible for the total increase in the price of electricity since last summer.

Your air conditioning could use more energy than any other home appliance this summer. So use it wisely. Conserve. For other ways to conserve, write for our free booklet, "Conservation," Edison, P.O. Box 800, Rosemead, California 91770.

Montclair athletes prepare

Firemen in olympics

Besides fighting fires, three members of the Montclair Fire Department are involved in the annual Firemen's Olympics.

For the third year in a row, the Montclair Fire Fighters Association is sponsoring a group of athletes to the olympics. They will be participating in swimming, golfing and trap shooting.

Rod Lasher, 22, will be taking part in the swimming events for the third year. He has won nine medals in the two previous years: four gold, two silver and two bronze.

Lasher's main events are the 50 and 100 yard backstroke. This year, however, he will be entered in five areas of competition. These will include the breaststroke, freestyle and the 100 yard individual medley.

Lasher started swimming when he was a freshman at Montclair High School in 1967. After graduating, Lasher did not do any swimming for the next two years while in college. Upon joining the fire department, he became interested in the Fireman's Olympics and started training again. His coach is Tom Grall, coach of the United States Swimming Team and a member of the United States Olympic Committee.

Dave Callaway, 38, will be competing in the trap shooting events. This event consists of shooting at held at the University of California at Irvine beginning June 18 and running through June 21.

The men going are not chosen among other firemen, La Rue said. They decide for themselves whether they want to go or not. No pressure. Last year Montclair sent men to participate in the track and field division, according to Ted La Rue, president of the Montclair Fire Fighters Association. This year, however, there are none going for track and field.

Callaway has been trap shooting for six years and has hit as many as 93 out of 100.

This is Callaway's first year in the olympics and he is looking forward to it. He says he likes trap shooting because he is not really killing anything.

Golfer Scott Kenley, 27, will be taking part in the two-day golf tournament consisting of 36 holes. Kenley has a handicap of 15 with a low score of 81. This is also his first year in the olympics.

Kenley started golfing eight years is put on them to participate, La Rue added.

The association, La Rue says, pays for the jackets, suits and entry fees for the participants.

Each year the California Firemen's Association puts on the olympics which are hosted by a different department each year. This year Newport Beach is the host, with most of the events being

Students travel to La Jolla

Oceanography students from Alta Loma High School recently took field trips to La Jolla. Approximately 40 students went on the field trips, taken with Chaffey High School.

Each field trip had three major stops, the first at the San Onofre atomic generator to see how the use of seawater to cool the generator affects sea life in the area. The students then traveled to the Scripps Institution of Oceanography to see the Physical and Biological Museums there.

The final stop was at a cove near La Jolla for diving to study life on the sea bottom. The students used the buddy system, diving in pairs.

VOTE FOR WATER INSURANCE!

More Water Storage Needed

Cucamonga County Water District's total water storage capacity now is 16 million gallons. To be reasonably safe, in case of a mechanical or power failure, the District should have storage capacity at least equal to a maximum day's consumption—presently 21 million gallons. We need more reservoirs for possible emergency situations.

We Must Avoid Water Shortage

Our area's steadily increasing population, expected to almost double in the next decade, will exceed the ability of present water facilities to meet future requirements. To avoid a possible water shortage, new pipelines, new pump stations, additional wells, improved canyon gravity flows, as well as reservoirs must be added to the system.

New Industries Should Be Attracted

New industrial plants will not locate here if there is any danger of a water shortage. Industries are the economic lifeblood of this area. They help keep down property taxes on homes and businesses, and provide job opportunities for local people. An improved water system will assure industries of a reliable water supply.

2/3 Majority Approval Required

A two-thirds majority "yes" vote on May 27 is needed for authorization of $8,000,000 in general obligation bonds to finance construction of these urgently-needed water system improvements over the next decade. Cost in increased taxes for a home cash valued at $30,000 will average only $8.25 per year over the bond repayment period — a real bargain in "water insurance"!

Antarctic studies aided by crewman

A Montclair High School graduate who recently returned from a voyage aboard an U.S. Coast Guard icebreaker is assisting a sixth grade Ontario class in its study of the Antarctic.

Dan Jones, a third class petty officer, is a crew member aboard the Coast Guard Cutter Burton Island; an icebreaker that recently assisted in freeing two icebound ships.

Jones visited the sixth grade class of June Wood, explaining to the Mariposa School students how the Burton Island assisted the ice bound Coast Guard Cutter Glacier and Argentinian cutter, San Martin.

The 1971 Montclair High School graduate explained how his cutter sent helicopters to evacuate crew members of the two ships. The Burton Island's helicopters also surveyed the ice surrounding the lodged ships, looking for cracks in the ice.

For the last five months, Jones has been communicating with the Mariposa School class. He has sent cassette tapes, explaining the Burton Island voyage and the South Sea ports that the cutter visited enroute from Long Beach to the Antarctic.

Two weekends ago, Jones provided the class with a tour of the Burton Island, which was docked at Long Beach.

"We think Dan is a unique man. Not many fellows would devote the time he has to help a sixth grade class," Mrs. Wood said.

Students complete trip to Washington

Eighth grade students from Upland Junior High School returned home Monday evening from a history field trip to Washington D.C.

The students were greeted in Washington by Congressman Jim Lloyd and his staff. Lloyd took the students to the floor of the House of Representatives where he briefed them on the procedures of the House. Lloyd then presented the group with a flag which had flown over the Capitol building.

Following lunch at the Rayborn Cafeteria, the students returned to the Capitol for a tour and an opportunity to observe and listen from the visitors gallery while the House was in session. The Supreme Court and the Library of Congress were visited later in the afternoon.

Evening activity included the Ford Theater Museum with Lincoln memorabilia.

A stage performance of the musical "Diamond Studs," the story of Jesse James, given in the theater, was attended by the students.

Scheduled tours of the FBI building, the White House and the National Archives were included along with visits to the Washington Monument, Lincoln Memorial, Jefferson Memorial and the Arlington National Cemetery.

Taking the boat down the Potomac River to Mt. Vernon, the students visited Civil War areas in Fredericksburg and Chancellorsville.

WICs to hear congressman

Congressman Jim Lloyd of the 35 District will be guest speaker for the Eighth Anniversary Dinner party for the Pomona Valley Chapter, National Association of Women in Construction (WIC).

The event will be held on Thursday, May 22, at The Arbor Restaurant, Upland, starting with a social hour at 6:30 p.m. followed by dinner at 7.

Lloyd is serving the 94th Congress as a member of the Armed Services committee and the science and technology committee.

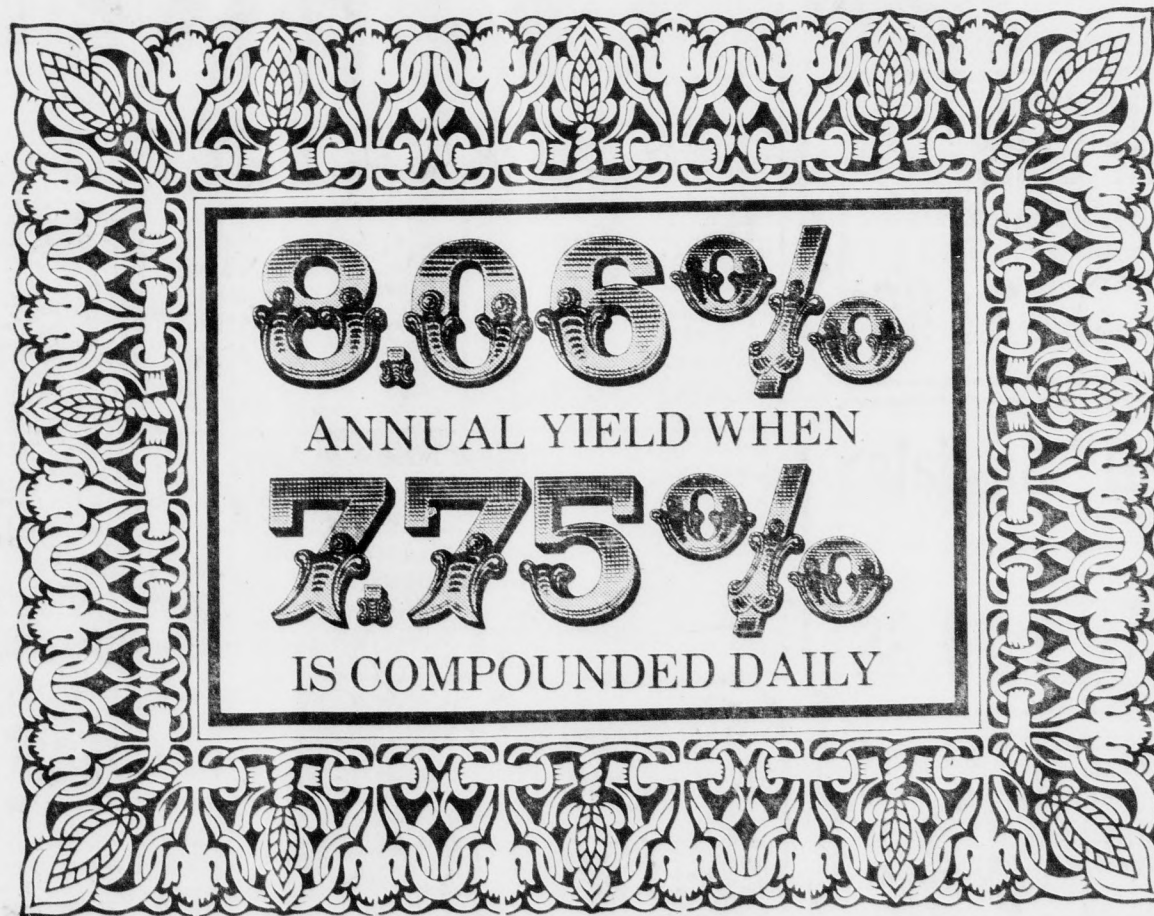

He will talk about top priority subjects relating to the construction industry, especially economy and energy.

HOW TO DO IT—Joanne Williams helps preschooler Cheryl Bruton with cutting and pasting a collage. Montclair High School students learn about running a preschool as they plan activities. Teacher Joyce Shores also teaches students how to apply for nursery school jobs.

Rehabilitated at Casa Colina

Patients of year receive honors

POMONA — A little boy not quite five and a smiling 76-year old widow were accorded special honors as patients of the year at the annual meeting of Casa Colina Hospital for rehabilitative medicine Tuesday.

Barrie L. Dyer, director of program development, coordinated the presentations.

Gary Briles, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Briles of Upland, has been a student in the Casa Colina Therapeutic Preschool for Handicapped Children for the past two years. First considered retarded, Gary could neither walk nor talk when he entered the preschool. He has made exceptional progress, however, and now has several words in his growing vocabulary. Though his movements may seem somewhat awkward, he can walk and even run. Award for his unusual achievement was presented to him by Dr. Elizabeth Neumann, director of the children's developmental services center.

In making the patient of the year award to white-haired Eva Laven, Peg Fleming, director of nursing at Casa Colina, commented, "What Eva has done is what rehabilitation is all about. It has been done only with her quite remarkable spirit, courage, and determination, and despite her age, which made the achievement of her goals that much harder. She has been an inspiration to many patients and to all of us on the staff. We still wonder how she did it."

Eva Laven, a widow, had managed her home independently even though she was 76. As a result of an auto accident last fall, she was paralyzed by a spinal cord injury, and her right arm was broken. When she arrived at Casa Colina for rehabilitation, the staff was pessimistic about her chances to achieve any sort of independence again. Making steady and painful progress in the face of all difficulties, she pushed herself constantly beyond what was hoped for. She went home on her feet with she had before — independently.

The Xerox Corporation and their employees were honored as donors of the year.

Gloria Myers, Upland, was honored as employee of the year. Mrs. Myers has been chief PBX-receptionist for the hospital for almost a decade. Hollis P. Allen of Claremont, retiring member of the board of directors, and Al Frederickson, facilities specialist for the California Department of Rehabilitation, were honored for their leadership and special contributions to the cause of rehabilitation. Ray Wilson, Pomona, who has to his credit 10 years of daily volunteer service with the Casa Colina Thrift Shop; Miss Sally McBride, Pomona, with 8,000 volunteer hours; and candystriper Rhonda Marquez, Upland, with 500 hours, were given special recognition.

Garden State reschedules plant tours

Garden State Paper Company, Inc., will begin offering tours of its newspaper recycling mill at 2205 W. Mt. Vernon Ave., Pomona, on a regular basis starting June 19.

Tours will be open to persons above 12 years of age each Thursday at 1:15, 2:15 and 3:15 p.m. There will be no night or weekend tours.

Requests for tours must be made in writing one month in advance to Tour Director, Garden State Paper Company, Public Relations Department, 100 Pomona Mall West, Suite 316, Pomona 91766.

All tour requests should include the name, address and telephone number of the person requesting the tour, the name of the organization involved and the number of people expected.

For safety reasons, children under 12 cannot be accommodated. One adult must accompany every five youngsters if the group includes children between the ages of 12 and 14.

Garden State Paper Company said up to 20 people can be accommodated on each tour, but 10 to 15 people are preferable.

Leading the tours will be Kimberley Hawkins, daughter of Mike Hawkins, stock preparation superintendent for Garden State, and Jennette Steward, whose father, Myles Steward, works in Garden State's receiving department.

Garden State Paper Company, a subsidiary of Media General, Inc., manufactures fresh newsprint from used newspapers through an exclusive de-inking process.

In addition to the mill in Pomona, Garden State operates mills in Garfield, N.J., and in Alsip, Ill., where the operation is a joint venture with Field Enterprises.

Media General is a diversified communications company which owns, in addition to Garden State Paper Company, daily newspapers, printing and publishing companies and broadcast stations, all in the southeast.

Reservation system expands this month

The San Bernardino National Forest will start an expanded campground reservation system

Western music fest rescheduled

VICTORVILLE (UPI) — A Memorial Day weekend country western musical festival which was expected to draw some of the top names in the industry and an audience of nearly 200,000 persons has been postponed until the July 4th weekend.

A spokesman for Nashville West Entertainment Inc. said the postponement resulted from complications in a deal to film the four-day festival for later use as a television special.

The spokesman said the western stars who tentatively had agreed to the earlier date also agreed to the later appearance.

The festival was to be held at the San Bernardino County Fairgrounds in this desert community. Fairgrounds manager Bob Dunlap said he hoped "the word will get around about the change to July 3-6 rather than have people showing up and being disappointed."

this month for certain campgrounds in the forest, according to Harold L. Mitchell, acting forest supervisor.

Reservations for June 13 through September 14 for 13 selected campgrounds can be made through any Ticketron outlet. Twelve other campgrounds in the Eldorado, Sequoia, Shasta-Trinity and Stanislaus National Forests and the Lake Tahoe Basin have also been selected. The reservation system is a continuation of the pilot system tested two summers on the Inyo and San Bernardino National Forests.

Mitchell explained the system as follows: a camper who wishes a reservation in one of the designated campgrounds will go to a Ticketron outlet near his home. He applies for the dates desired in the campground of his choice. This is fed into a computer that tells if a vacancy is available for those dates. If so, the camper pays his fee and is given the ticket with validating information on it. The actual family unit is assigned by the Forest Service at the campground. If no attendant is on duty, a prominent display board will show the camper what unit has been assigned.

For prospective campers who don't live within a convenient distance of a Ticketron outlet, located in many stores throughout California, the request may be mailed to Ticketron, 427 Merchant St., San Francisco, 94111. The ticket will be validated and mailed back to the purchaser. In either case, reservations may not be made more than 90 days in advance of the scheduled camping trip. Mail requests must include payment for daily fees for length of stay plus the reservation fee. Ticket sales will start daily at 10 a.m., except for Sundays when no sales will be made.

Mitchell pointed out that the campground reservation system provides a helpful service to campers. With reservations, people know they have a place to camp before they leave home. Before the system was tried in 1973, many campgrounds were overcrowded because too many people were competing for the same areas. The reservation system will help to guarantee a pleasant camping experience for people holding validated tickets. It should be noted that the reservation system applies to only 13 of the 35 campgrounds on the San Bernardino National Forest. Those campgrounds not designated for the reservation system will remain on a first-come, first-served basis. People with Golden Age Passports are entitled to half-price rates on the camping fees when they present their card prior to purchase of the tickets.

Information on which campgrounds have been designated for the reservation system are available from the supervisor's office in San Bernardino.

Chicago in outdoor concert

Super groups Chicago and the Beach Boys co-headline an open air concert May 23 at the Anaheim Stadium, starting at 6 p.m. This will be the only Southern California appearance of the two groups on the same bill, and is part of a nationwide tour. Honk group is the special guest act.

The tour marks the first time that two groups of such stature have traveled across the country together, sharing the spotlight.

The idea for Chicago and the Beach Boys to tour together came last November when Chicago taped its annual New Year's Eve TV special, and members of the Beach Boys "jammed" with them.

Refugee camp visit

By Barbara Henderson

EDITOR'S NOTE: Barbara Henderson is assistant to the city manager of the City of San Dimas.

On Sunday, May 11, Hugh Dynes, chief deputy to Los Angeles County Supervisor Peter Schabarum, and I visited the Vietnamese refugee camp at Camp Pendleton.

After entering through the San Clemente gate, we were directed to the press center and issued passes. We were then driven by U.S. Marine Corp personnel to the Command Information Bureau and briefed on the current status of the camp, after which we toured on foot several of the major camp areas.

The refugee population at the camp was 18,236, of which 1,054 were Cambodian. The Cambodian refugees were housed separately in the San Onofre Camp a number of miles away on the base because of the difference in the two cultures.

Most Vietnamese were housed in the eight camps in the northern portion of Camp Pendleton. While there were a few Quonset huts being utilized, most of the refugee facilities were tents.

The newest tent area known as Camp 8, was home for Premier Ky. He was no longer receiving visitors since the press had "visited him to death." He has no special privileges, such as private quarters.

Only about 125-150 Vietnamese are leaving the camp daily. The main bottleneck is the length of time required (about two weeks) for Washington to complete the security check. While the response of U.S. citizens to act as sponsors has been good, more sponsors are needed.

All but 24 of the Cambodians have sponsors. This is because the only Cambodians escaping from that country were high level officials who could easily secure sponsors.

The tents are designed to sleep 16; however, many tents hold more because the Vietnamese have an extremely strong family unit culture and never separate family members. Some families have as many as 22 members including all the in-laws and grandparents.

While most are part of family units, the refugees who were along joined friends or distant relatives. Many refugees living in the tents found friends or relatives in Quonset huts and have since moved into the huts.

The huts are over-crowded, but no one seems to mind as long as they can be warmer. The temperature at night often dips to 50 degrees accompanied by dense fog. The Vietnamese are used to a very hot and humid climate often reaching 110 degrees in the shade with 100 per cent humidity.

The biggest problem has been suffering through the chilly nights. Most of the refugees retire early and get up late to escape the cold. Three blankets have been issued each refugee.

On the day of our visit it was sunny and hot. (I was only wearing a sleeveless blouse with slacks) yet I saw many Vietnamese huddled in field jackets issued by the Marine Corps with the hood tied securely around their head and their hands tucked into the sleeves as though they were freezing.

Even the toddlers wear the large sized jackets to keep warm, which has prompted the Marines to affectionately dub them "walking field jackets."

Marines told us the refugees were becoming accustomed to our climate. Most of the tent flaps were up that day, whereas in the past, they were down to retain warmth during the day.

Accompanied by Marine officers, we were free to talk with refugees and visit and photograph any section of the camp. The only photography restriction was to ask permission of the refugees before photographing tent interiors. We found most of the Vietnamese to be very friendly and outgoing, particularly the younger women and children.

While it was impossible to judge accurately, I would say at least 1/2 of the refugees spoke English to some extent.

Most of the heads of families are upper-middle class citizens; many of them in professional occupations. There were doctors, attorneys and accountants as well as high government officials.

While some refugees were very well dressed, most were not, probably indicating the haste in which they left rather than their former economic position. Clothes were donated and Tents were with donated clothing inside. A limit was set on the number of articles which could be taken per person.

There was also a PX in operation in each tent camp where it appeared mostly clothing was being sold. The marines said they were not allowing food to be brought back to the tents since this could produce a rodent problem.

Instead, the people have mess halls which, for the most part, operate around the clock. At the time of our visit the refugees were still being allowed to eat in any camp mess hall of their choice.

However, this was being changed whereby they would have to eat in their own camp's mess hall since the one large mess hall serving camps 1, 2, and 3 was by far the most popular due to its having heating and air conditioning.

After seeing what the refugees were being served for Sunday lunch, it appeared that they were eating well and becoming used to our food. Typically, the plates contained pork, rice, salad and soup plus dessert. The food is served cafeteria style.

Each camp has its own organization with an elected Vietnamese leader who worked with his Marine counterpart in running the camp. The Vietnamese leaders appoint various individuals to work in such areas as sanitation, education, entertainment, etc. In addition, each tent elects its own representative who reports complaints or needs to the Vietnamese leader.

The Vietnamese are also assisting in the work to be done in each camp as much as is possible. This gives them a sense of pride, as well as relieving Marine personnel of the duties.

Sanitary facilities appeared to be very adequate and there was an abundance of chemical toilets. There were shower facilities in each camp. While the Quonset hut areas already had hot water, hot water

VIETNAMESE FAMILY — Walking through the refugee camp at Camp Pendleton, San Clemente, is a Vietnamese family. About 18,236 Vietnamese and Cambodian refugees were housed at the camp and at a nearby camp at San Onofre May facilities were being installed in tent camps.

Marine engineers were also installing clothes lines between the tents. Rather than bring in automatic washing machines, washing tubs have been provided since these are preferred by the Vietnamese women.

The Red Cross distributed health kits to each refugee arriving. The kits contain such items as toothpaste, toothbrushes, soap and other personal necessities.

The Marines did a fantastic job considering that the refugee camp was only 11 days old and was housing more than 18,000 people. This was due in no small part to the almost fanatic dedication of the Marine personnel to the refugees. Most of them are working 16-20 hours per day.

The Marine personnel we talked with indicated very strongly their concern about how many Americans had voiced opposition to the refugees. They pointed out that most American families had been immigrants at one time or another.

When we asked what the refugees needed most now, we were told it was socks. While the response in donating clothing has been outstanding, everyone forgets to donate socks. This presents a particular problem for the Vietnamese, getting used to our colder climate when they have cold feet constantly.

They also need parasols or umbrellas, as well as hats, to protect them from the sun during the day. Also more instructors are needed to teach English and citizenship classes.

As one can imagine, boredom can be a problem at the camps and more entertainment would be welcome as well. Large bed sheets have been hung for projection screens in camps where American movies are shown each night for those who can brave the cold.

About 37 TV's have been distributed.

They are very popular with the refugees, American volunteers visit the camp regularly to organize games for the children.

For those who are interested in sponsoring a Vietnamese family, they can call Camp Pendleton where they will be referred to one of the agencies coordinating the placement of refugees.

While there is some financial responsibility involved, the main requirement of a sponsor is to find a place for the refugee to live, help them find a job, and assist them in becoming acquainted with our culture.

KEEPING WARM — A small Vietnamese refugee huddles in her blanket to keep warm at the refugee camp at Camp Pendleton. The refugees have had difficulty adapting to the "cold" climate of California. (U.S. Marine Corps Photo)

SUPPLIES — A young Vietnamese mother and her child collect health and comfort items which were donated to the Camp Pendleton refugee camp. The refugees need socks, English lessons and entertainment, according to Barbara Henderson, who recently visited the camp. (U.S. Marine Corps Photo)

HELPING — Pat Griffith, a member of the San Diego Chapter of the Lutheran Immigration Agency, assists a Vietnamese refugee in seeking a sponsor in the United States at Camp

'Sizwe Banzi Is Dead' and 'The Island' rescheduled

LOS ANGELES — 1975 Tony Award-winner (for "Best Actor") John Kani and Winston Ntshona will be featured in "Sizwe Banzi Is Dead" and "The Island" to be presented for a limited two-week exclusive engagement for the Los Angeles audiences at the Mark Taper Forum, it was announced by Taper Artistic Director Gordon Davidson. "Sizwe Banzi" and "The Island" have been re-scheduled for official openings of Tuesday, June 17th and Wednesday, June 18th, respectively, thus, condensing the engagement from 30 to 18 performances.

Following the close of the productions of New York on May 18, Messrs. Kani and Ntshona must return to their native South Africa. This previously unscheduled trip and all the delicate international arrangements that go with it has necessitated the change in performance schedule here in Los Angeles. Davidson stated that "we were determined to bring to the Southern California audiences these two exciting Tony Award-winners in their original roles. Rather than lose that opportunity by cancelling the productions entirely, we were able to negotiate an agreement with the New York producers to bring these two extraordinary talents back from South Africa directly to Los Angeles for an exclusive two-week engagement. The production will close on the originally announced date of June 29th. This limited run of "Sizwe Banzi" and "The Island" will conclude the Taper's Special Spring Celebration which opened with the current "Me and Bessie" in April.

Ticket holders who have purchased "Sizwe Banzi" and "The Island" tickets for the cancelled performances, June 5 thru June 12, should immediately contact the Mark Taper Forum Box Office in person or by mail (135 North Grand Ave., Los Angeles 90012) to exchange their tickets for preferred seating before major public sales begin. For telephone information call (213) 626-7211.

Chicken rates low in calories

If there were such a thing as a "miracle diet" chicken ought to go right at the top of the menu. Calorie charts of meats we commonly eat show chicken has fewest calories. A three-ounce portion of skinned broiled chicken breast has a dainty 115 calories. And if you spice it appetizingly the bits and pinches of aromatics won't add even a whole calorie per portion.

You can eat imaginatively seasoned chicken frequently without its getting monotonous for there are unlimited spices, herbs, seasoning vegetables and combinations of these which will permit a tempting parade of this thrifty fowl.

Chicken Ratatouille is a delicious example of how well you can eat and still pare away pounds. For this dish, chicken is cooked with tomatoes, eggplant, zucchini and mushrooms and seasoned temptingly with bay leaf, onion and garlic powders and a bit of oregano. Divide the yield in four portions, eating one and freezing the remainder for future meals. Or, serve the rest to the family. It's so good they'll never dream it's low-calorie.

Chicken Ratatouille

(Low Calorie)
2 1/2 to 3 pound chicken, cut into eighths

- 1 teaspoon salt
- 1/4 teaspoon ground black pepper
- 1 can (1 lb.) tomatoes, broken up
- 1 small eggplant, cut into 3 x 1-inch fingers
- 2 small zucchini, cut into 3 x 1-inch fingers
- 1/2 pound fresh mushrooms, halved
- 1 bay leaf
- 2 teaspoons onion powder
- 1 teaspoon garlic powder
- 1 teaspoon oregano leaves, crumbled

Sprinkle both sides of chicken with salt and black pepper. Place chicken, skin side up, on a rack in a shallow open roasting pan. Bake in a preheated very hot oven (450 F.) until browned, about 20 minutes. Remove chicken and the rack; pour off any fat from pan. Reduce oven temperature to moderate (350 F.). In roasting pan combine tomatoes, eggplant, zucchini, mushrooms, bay leaf, onion and garlic powders and oregano. Place chicken pieces on top of the vegetable mixture; spoon some of the sauce over the chicken. Cover and bake in a moderate oven for 30 minutes. Uncover and bake until chicken is fork-tender, about 15 minutes. Yield: 4 portions.

Baked Chicken With Apples

(Low Calorie)

- 2 1/2 to 3 pound chicken, cut into eighths
- 1/2 teaspoon salt
- 1/4 teaspoon ground black pepper
- 1 chicken bouillon cube
- 1/2 cup boiling water
- 1/2 cup apple juice
- 2 cups sliced fresh green beans or 1 package (9 oz.) frozen cut green beans, thawed

Film award

Michelangelo Antonioni's "The Passenger" has been awarded the Premio Rizzoli, one of Italy's major film awards presented annually by the Rizzoli Publishing Co.

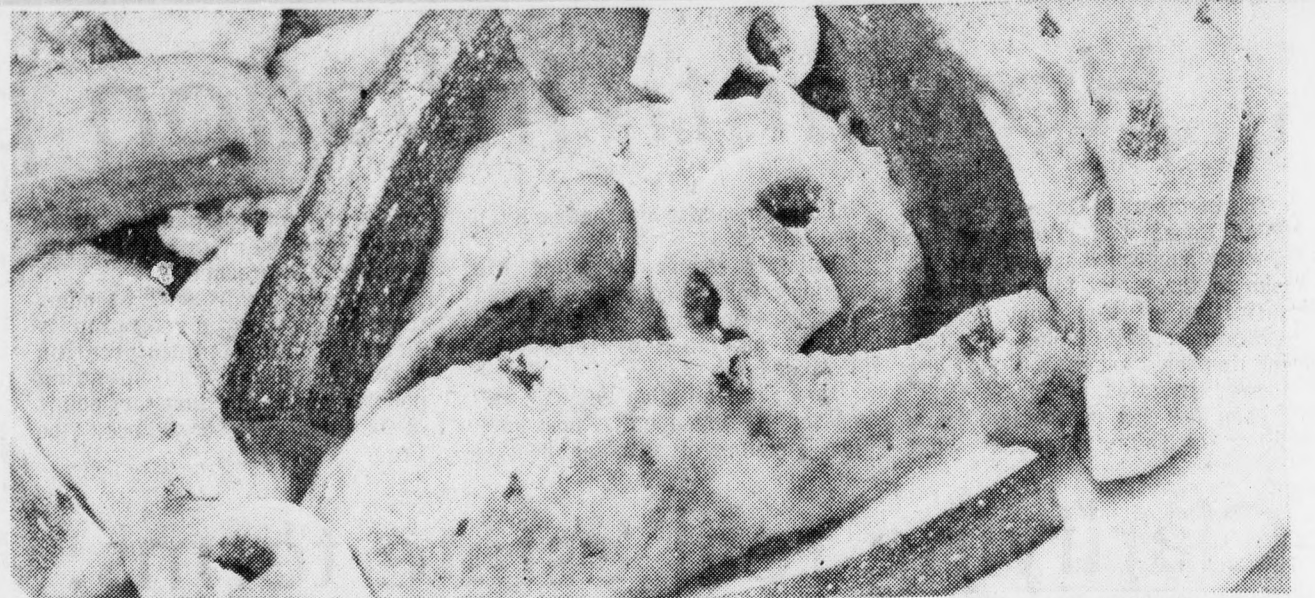

Antonioni accepted the prize for the MGM film during ceremonies last week on the isle of Ischia before an audience of cultural, political and show business leaders.

Last year's winner of the Premio Rizzoli was Fellini's "Amarcord."

- 1 cup diced peeled apple
- 1 tablespoon cornstarch
- 1 teaspoon ground cinnamon

Sprinkle both sides of chicken with salt and black pepper. Place chicken, skin side up, on a rack in a shallow open roasting pan. Bake in a preheated very hot oven (450 F.) until browned, about 20 minutes. Reduce oven temperature to moderate (350 F.). Remove chicken and rack; pour off any fat from the pan. Return chicken to pan.

Dissolve bouillon cube in boiling water. Pour over chicken along with apple juice. Stir in green beans. Cover and bake for 25 minutes. Stir in apple. Cover and bake for 10 minutes longer. Meanwhile, in a small saucepan mix cornstarch with cinnamon; blend with 1 tablespoon cold water. Stir in hot pan liquid. Cook and stir until mixture boils and thickens slightly. Serve with chicken and vegetables. Yield: 4 portions.

Chicken is naturally low in calories, and when nicely spiced can be high in eating satisfaction.

In Chicken Ratatouille, it is teamed with a mixture of herbed vegetables.

Wheat germ and biscuit mix shells are tasty hot or cold and filled with cool, crisp vegetable salads.

For vegetables

Pastry shells of wheat germ

By AILEEN CLAIRE
NEA Food Editor

A basic recipe allows outdoor chefs to vary their menus with little effort. For example, a baked shell using toasted wheat germ and biscuit mix is just right to fill with a sour cream vegetable filling or other hot fillings such as cheese. These shells also are tasty hot or cold filled with cool, crisp vegetable salads.

WHEAT GERM VEGETABLE PIES

- 1 cup vacuum packed toasted wheat germ
- 1 cup biscuit mix
- 1/4 cup butter
- 3 tablespoons milk, about
- Hot or Cold Vegetable Filling
- Mix wheat germ and biscuit mix. Cut in butter with mixer until mixture is crumbly and consistency of coarse meal. Beat in milk gradually, using just enough to form a dough. Divide dough into 6 equal portions. Press onto bottom and sides of 6 (5-inch) individual foil pie pans. Place on baking sheet. Bake in 375-degree oven 12 to 14 minutes or until golden. Fill as desired with hot or cold vegetables. Makes 6 servings.

SOUR CREAM VEGETABLE FILLING:

Cut 2 medium onions in half lengthwise and slice thinly. Saute in 1 tablespoon butter a few minutes. Cover closely, reduce heat and continue to steam cook about 5 minutes. Top with 1 (10-ounce) package frozen mixed vegetables, 1 teaspoon salt and 1/4 cup water. Heat to boiling, cover, reduce heat and let simmer about 5 minutes longer. Stir in 2 tablespoons soy sauce and 1 cup dairy sour cream. Heat to simmering.

QUICK WHEAT GERM BISCUITS

- 1 1/2 cups biscuit mix
- 1/2 cup vacuum packed toasted wheat germ
- 1 tablespoon salad oil
- 2/3 cup milk or water
- Mix together all ingredients with fork to form a dough. Spoon into 12 mounds on lightly greased baking sheet. Bake in 450-degree oven 10 to 12 minutes or until golden. Makes 1 dozen biscuits.

Thrives in shade, sun

Versatile evergreen delight

One of the most planted evergreen shrubs in California has the unlikely name of raphiolepis. Like many other five-syllable plant names, its pronunciation varies a great deal (the accent should be placed on the third syllable, "o"). But no doubt exists about the beauty raphiolepis brings to California gardens. The several varieties form a versatile group of landscape shrubs. Pink springtime and Coates' crimson match well with other shrubs in the foundation planting. The leathery-textured foliage is distinctive. During the cool season, the weeks of spectacular bloom is something extra. Ballerina and enchantress, two of the compact growers, provide clusters of flowers from late winter into early summer. The dwarf habit and green foliage are showcased in borders and foreground plantings. Nurseries have raphiolepis ready for planting. Shopping will turn up varieties in rose, pink and reddish shades — and even white. Fascination, a relative newcomer, boasts clusters of late-spring flowers with deep-rose petals surrounding a white center. Its compact growth forms small mounds of dark green foliage.

In addition to the dimension the foliage adds to the surroundings, the floral beauty of raphiolepis, and the many uses of the different varieties, these shrubs offer even more versatility.

Raphiolepis will thrive in partial shade, though it is essentially sun-loving. This solves the problem of securing a plant for difficult, semi-shaded garden spots.

Nurseries often have certain raphiolepis shaded into patio trees, and as prestarted espaliers on redwood trellises. This means they can be used in limited space against a wall or fence, in a narrow planting area. And they can be featured in containers — where beauty can be enjoyed up close.

Checklist

—The nearest flower show is at your neighborhood nursery. Right now a multitude of shrubs and vines are in bloom. All are easily transplanted into the garden.

—Look for yellow, white, blue and pink marguerites to add great splashes of color to your patio, deck or perennial border.

—Dwarf marigolds provide a summer show of color in border plantings — and are ideal for edging purposes.

—Plant asters, zinnias, dwarf dahlias, marigolds, petunias, periwinkle and other bedding plants from nursery flats. The blooming results will be a summer's delight.

—Wait to cut off the foliage leaves of such flowering bulbs as daffodils and tulips. Let them die back naturally first.

Raphiolepis, an evergreen shrub, is a favorite with Californians because they begin to bloom early and display beauty for weeks. The shrubs have many uses in landscaping—in raised planters and in foundation plantings near the home.

Avoiding mistakes

Don't let a luxurious garden slip between your fingers. The surest way to a green thumb is knowing how best to avoid that perennial garden sore thumb, unhealthy plants, by avoiding these gardening mistakes.

—Not having the right tools. These include a shovel, spading fork, steel rake, wooden rake, hoe, cultivator, grass edger, several types of shears, pen-knife, trowel, wheel barrow, spreader, sprayer, watering can and gardening gloves.

—Forgetting that plants need the right nutrients to grow strong and beautiful. But grass and flowers need different fertilizers.

—Not becoming acquainted with insect identification and control. For example, malformed buds and flowers might indicate the presence of aphids, pale plants might suggest lacebug infestation.

Hormone use suggested

Rooting hormone powders are effective, says Bill Meachem, gardening consultant. In fact when you are rooting woody cuttings of shrubs and trees you must use them to get results. They are not essential for soft cuttings like chrysanthemums, begonias and geraniums which root quite easily.

Combine colors

Today's interest in plants is phenomenal and carries over into the featuring of flowering favorites in containers.

An exciting adventure is to come up with combinations that reflect a creative flair. Happily, there is no lack of container or color bearers to provide spring and summertime enjoyment. The possibilities are limited only by one's imagination.

Growing ivy geraniums in a moss-lined wire basket is lovely — but, combining dwarf marigolds with the geraniums, and adding white alysium for an accent — implanted on the sides of the basket, produces a truly imaginative creation. This can be suspended as a delightful hanging basket on the porch or patio. Half baskets are available for displaying against a wall or fence.

A fun and challenging experience is to shop for and discover unique or extraordinary containers in which to showcase the beauty of plants. For instance, strawberry jars have pockets for planting small-growing plants.

A GRIM FAIRY TALE DISPROVED

By Dr. W. P. Helzer, D.C.

Arthritis isn't something which strikes old people and spares the young. It may be more prevalent among our older citizens but often occurs in young people. Because they have the impression it's an "old folk" ailment they may make a self-diagnosis and be wrong. Neglected joint injuries become arthritic. Even a high school athlete can become a victim. When the pain subsides, the "trouble" is considered "healed", but in general, any pain in knees, elbows, shoulders, wrist, fingers or toes, or any "working part" of the body, which recurs may be arthritis.

been accepted that the cause is the inability of the body to use calcium properly. This occurs in many ways and has many terms such as osteo-arthritis, degenerative arthritis, hypertrophic arthritis, rheumatoid arthritis, atrophic arthritis, and arthritis deformans. Chiropractic knows that arthritis, being a disturbance of the bodily functions of both assimilation and elimination, requires their restoration if recovery is to be assured. Lulling the patient into a condition of drugged neglect can only aggravate matters. Chiropractic restores the nerve force of the body and thus starts the normalizing of the functions of nature. It's the CAUSE, and not the EFFECTS of arthritis which must receive therapy.

Helps budget

Hot casserole stars cheeses

A gourmet's casserole to fit a beginner's budget has three favorite cheeses for superb flavor and great nutritional value. This creative recipe is a good example of how versatile cheese and an unexpected ingredient or two can put new life into an old favorite like macaroni 'n' cheese.

All cheeses produced in California are made from milk and so contain milk's protein, calcium and other nutrients in concentrated form.

Ranging in textures and flavors from soft and mild to hard and pungent, cheese varieties can be used in combination with one another to produce really great tasting, economical and protein rich main dishes.

Kids see, kids do

Do children really dislike vegetables? Chances are they do if their parents do. Nowhere is the old adage "Do as I do, not as I say" more important than in establishing good eating habits in children. Some ideas for making vegetables more appealing: serve a wide variety, prepare in interesting ways, serve raw or in salads, have different shapes and colors, cook only until tender-crisp.

Have you thought of vegetables for snacks? Keep a supply of vegetables in finger-food size pieces, such as carrot and celery sticks, cucumber slices, green pepper strips, radishes and cherry tomatoes, ready-to-eat in the refrigerator. You may find hungry youngsters (and adults) eating more vegetables than you dreamed of — with no coaxing required.

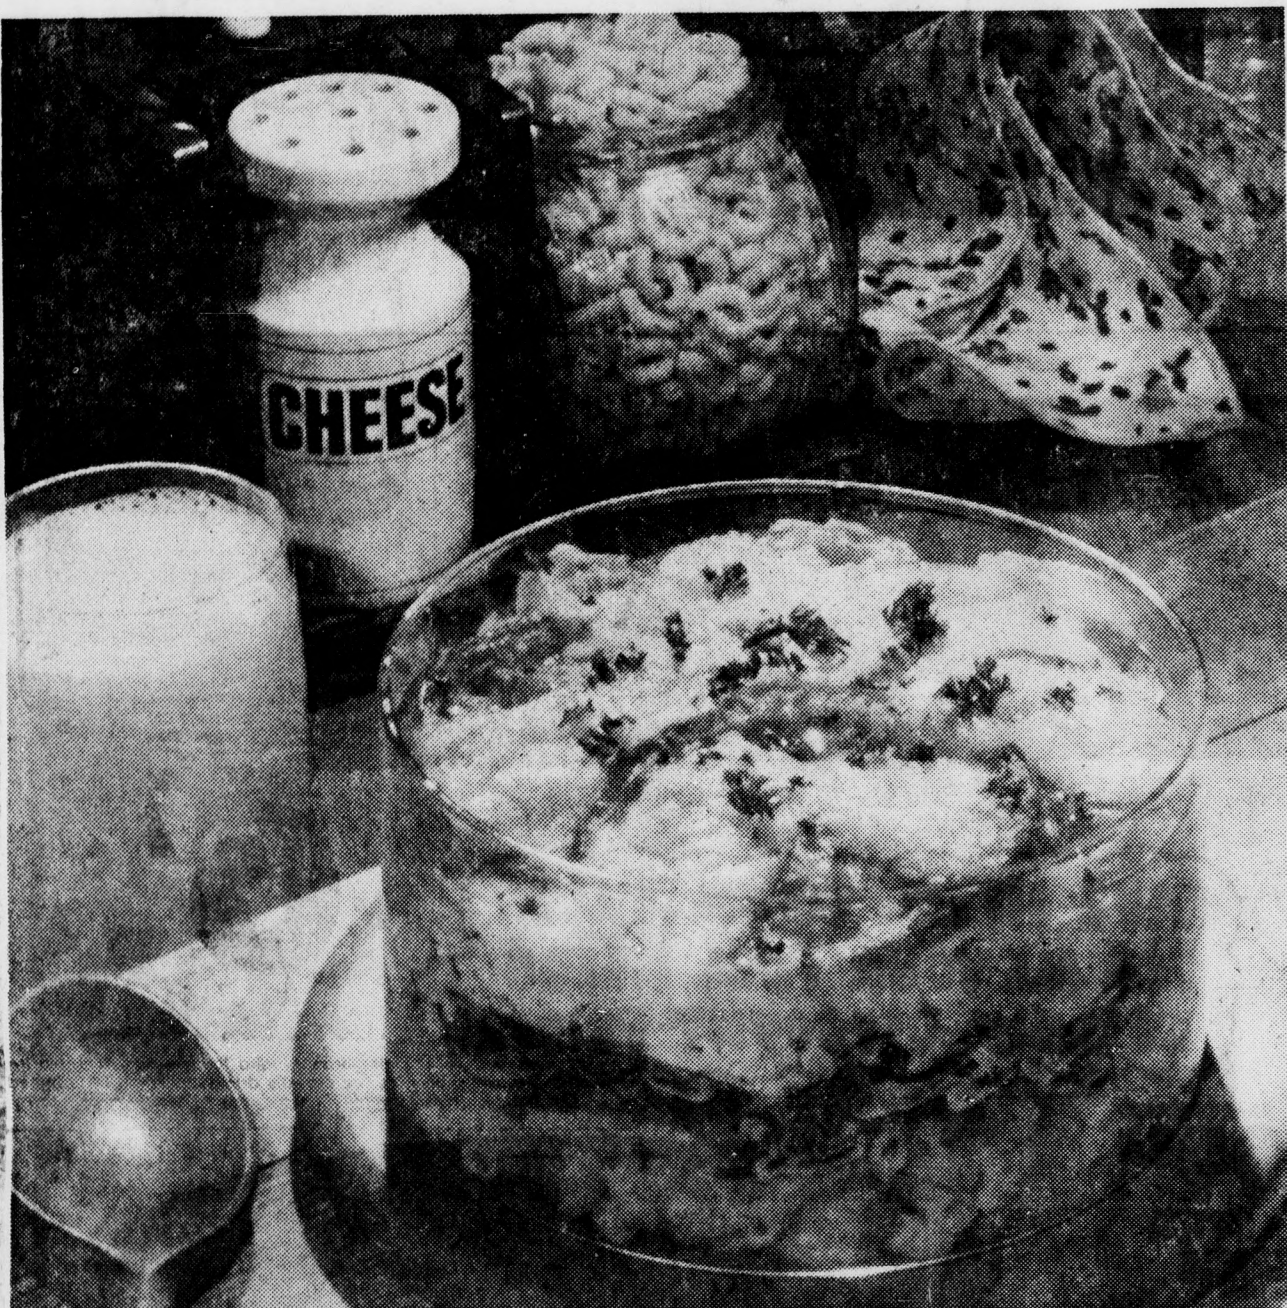

Layers of pasta, french cut green beans, the cheese medley, tomatoes and more cheese make this an unusually delicious meal in one casserole. To make the creamy center layer, combine cottage cheese, diced jack cheese and parmesan cheese. As the dish bakes, the three cheeses blend into a wonderfully smooth, tasty mixture.

Fresh rosy tomato slices peeking through additional jack cheese meltin on top makes this supper dish look irresistible, too. Selected seasonings of oregano, basil and tarragon bring out the best from the cheese and vegetables. Assemble in a glass dish to show off the handsome layers — at this point, the casserole may be refrigerated for later baking. Well chilled, refreshing milk is the perfect beverage to serve with this economical, one dish meal.

Getting good nutritive value for your food dollar should extend to snacktime, too. Yogurt, cottage cheese and all the other cheeses make easy to serve snacks that are well liked and contain most of milk's valuable nutrients. The variety of nutritious snacktime dairy foods is most appealing. Keep them cold and covered and you will enjoy their wholesome flavors at their peak.

Deluxe Macaroni and Cheese

- 1 cup elbow macaroni
- Boiling salted water
- 1 (10-ounce) package frozen french cut green beans
- Salt
- 1/2 pound monterey jack cheese
- 1/4 cup grated parmesan cheese
- 1 pint small curd cottage cheese

A gourmet's casserole to fit a beginners' budget has three favorite cheeses for superb flavor and great nutritional value. This dish stars jack, parmesan and cottage cheese with fresh or frozen string beans in the center. Beautiful flavor!

- 1/2 teaspoon oregano
- 1/2 teaspoon basil
- 1/2 teaspoon tarragon
- 1/4 teaspoon pepper
- 1 large tomato

Cook macaroni in boiling salted water as package directs. Drain and turn into 1 1/2-quart souffle dish or casserole. Place green beans in a sieve. Run under hot water until thawed enough to separate. Drain well and turn into dish to make a second layer. Sprinkle lightly with salt. Dice half the jack cheese. Mix with parmesan, cottage cheese, herbs, pepper and 1/2 teaspoon salt. Spoon into dish as third layer. Top with sliced tomato. Cut remaining jack cheese into finger shaped pieces and place like spokes on top. Bake uncovered in 400° oven 30 minutes or until heated through. Sprinkle with minced parsley if desired. Makes 4 servings.

Milk substitution

Substitution of skim milk for whole milk in school lunch programs might diminish an already inadequate calorie intake among some groups, according to a member of the American Medical Association's Department of Foods and Nutrition.

Steve Allen to give one-night concert

Steve Allen and his wife Jayne Meadows, are scheduled for a one night performance Friday May 23rd at 8 p.m. at the Citrus College Auditorium 18824 E. Foothill Blvd.,

Azusa. Proceeds from ticket sales will go to aid the work of M-2 Sponsors in the Southern California area. This is the second appearance

Steve has made in behalf of the M-2 Sponsors work, a community service project, which conducts a prison visitation program in California correctional institutions. Volunteers are matched on a one-to-one basis with men, women and youth who would like a visitor from the outside.

Orien Johnson, Branch Manager of the Southern California M-2 work said, "Having the program endorsed in this way by people of the prominence of Steve Allen is a tremendous boost to the morale of prisoners who tend to feel that nobody cares for them as human beings."

The prime purpose of the M-2 one-to-one visitation program, Johnson explained, is to provide prisoners with community resources to help them in their plans to make a successful re-entry into society. "It begins with a friendly visit from someone from the straight community and continues into the parole period until a good job is located and the ex-offender begins to take his or her place in the community again." Sponsors do not have to have training in psychology or social work but are chosen because of their willingness to befriend a person in prison. They are recruited from service clubs, women's groups, schools, churches and other community groups. Over 3,000 Californians have responded to this opportunity to make regular visits which many claim is a helpful experience for them as well as the inmate.

Before an inmate who has participated in the program is paroled he or she is interviewed by Steve Allen and his wife, Jayne Meadows, appear in a benefit performance at the Citrus College Auditorium, Azusa, Friday at 8 p.m. Proceeds will go to aid the work of M-2 Sponsors.

RESOLUTION NO. 2804
A RESOLUTION OF THE CITY COUNCIL OF THE CITY OF UPLAND CALLING A PUBLIC HEARING TO DETERMINE WHETHER PUBLIC NECESSITY, HEALTH, SAFETY, OR WELFARE REQUIRES THE FORMATION OF AN UNDERGROUND UTILITY DISTRICT ON MOUNTAIN AVENUE FROM THE NORTH LINE OF THE SAN BERNARDINO FREEWAY NORTHERLY TO 200 FEET NORTH OF THE CENTER LINE OF NINTH STREET.

WHEREAS the Upland Municipal Code, Article VII, Chapter 2, Part 6 establishes a procedure for the creation of underground utility districts and requires that the initial step in such a procedure be holding a public hearing to ascertain whether public necessity, health, safety, or welfare requires the removal of poles, overhead wires, and associated overhead structures and the underground installation of wires and facilities for supplying electric, communication or similar associated service in any such district; and

WHEREAS, it has been recommended that such an underground utility district hereinafter called District, be formed on Mountain Avenue from its intersection with the north right of way limit of the San Bernardino Freeway northerly to a line parallel with and 200 feet north of the center line of Ninth Street and bounded on the east and west by lines parallel with and 50 feet from the center line of Mountain Avenue, except within the rights of way of Seventh Street, Eighth Street and Ninth Street at which locations the east and west boundaries shall be parallel with and 150 feet from the center line of Mountain Avenue.

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED BY THE City Council of the City of Upland that:

1. Notice is hereby given that a public hearing will be held by the City Council of Upland on June 2, 1975, at 7 p.m. in the Council Chambers, 480 North Euclid Avenue, Upland, California, to ascertain whether the public necessity, health, safety or welfare requires removal of poles, overhead wires and associated overhead structures and underground installation of wires and facilities for supplying electric, communication, or similar associated service in the District described, except that overhead wires for 12 KVA transmission of electric power crossing said District in an east-west direction on Seventh Street and on Eighth Street shall be exempt from this requirement.

2. At such hearing all persons interested shall be given an opportunity to be heard. Said hearing may be continued from time to time as determined by the City Council.

3. The City Clerk shall notify all affected property owners as shown on the last equalized assessment roll and the utilities concerned of the time and place of such hearing by mailing a copy of this resolution to said persons and utilities at least ten (10) days prior to the date thereof.

4. The area proposed to be included in the District is shown upon that certain map entitled "Underground Utility District No. 3," dated May 2, 1975, which is on file in the office of the City Clerk of the City of Upland.

Mushroom dishes

Little calorie counting

Every woman who looks regretfully at a favorite suit which once fit so smartly, starts thinking of a reducing diet. A miracle diet, preferably, comprised of dainties which have tempting flavor, pleasing texture and practically no calories.

Calorie counting is the realistic approach to weight loss. Learn the list of mustn't-touch foods which are high in fats and carbohydrates. Memorize a list of low-calorie foods. Exercise more as you eat less.

Many perfectly delicious foods are low-calorie. One of the best vegetables is the mushroom, whether fresh or canned. A pound of mushrooms — for all its intriguing flavor — yields just under 100 calories. (Compare that with some 1200 calories for a pound of hamburger!) Because of their "meaty" texture they are high in satiety value, giving a feeling of having eaten well.

Mushroom and Chicken Polynesian (Low Calorie)

1/2 cup domestic soy sauce
2 tablespoons white vinegar
1 tablespoon dry sherry
1/4 cup chopped scallions
1 clove garlic, minced
1 teaspoon ground ginger
1/8 teaspoon ground white pepper

3 chicken breasts, split, skinned and boned
1 pound fresh mushrooms or 2 cans (6 to 8 oz. each) whole mushrooms

1 large green pepper, cut into chunks

In a medium bowl combine soy sauce, vinegar, sherry, scallions, garlic, ginger and white pepper; mix well. Cut chicken breasts into 1-1/2-inch pieces; add to soy mixture; toss well to coat all sides. Cover and refrigerate for 1 hour. Rinse, pat dry and halve fresh mushrooms or drain canned mushrooms. Add to chicken mixture; toss well to coat. Alternately arrange on 6 skewers chicken, mushrooms and green pepper. Brush with soy mixture. Arrange skewers on broiler rack. Place under preheated extremely hot broiler (500 F.); broil until cooked, turning and brushing frequently with soy mixture, about 10 minutes. If desired, serve with steamed rice.

Yield: 6 portions.

Braised Steak With Mushrooms and Peppers

1 pound fresh mushrooms or 2 cans (6 to 8 oz. each) sliced mushrooms

1 tablespoon salad oil

2 pound boneless chuck or shoulder steak

1 can (12 oz.) cocktail vegetable juice

1/2 cup sliced onion

2 teaspoons salt

1/4 teaspoon ground black pepper

1 bay leaf

2 cups green peppers cut into 2-inch chunks

1 tablespoon cornstarch

1 tablespoon cold water

1/4 cup chopped parsley

Rinse, pat dry and slice fresh mushrooms or drain canned mushrooms; set aside. In a large skillet heat oil. Add steak, brown on both sides. Add juice, onion, salt, black pepper and bay leaf. Bring to boiling point. Reduce heat, cover and simmer until almost tender, about 1 hour. Add reserved mushrooms and green peppers. Return to boiling point. Reduce heat; cover and simmer until meat and vegetables are fork-tender, about 10 minutes. Mix cornstarch with water. Blend into skillet; cook and stir until thickened; stir in parsley. Discard bay leaf. Slice steak and serve with vegetable gravy. Yield: 6 portions.

Cook corn in husk

What's a summer cookout without fresh corn — on the cob? For those whose gardens won't give up its own fresh corn for awhile, enjoy herb baked corn in its husks shipped fresh from Florida. This cooking method helps seal in that special corn flavor and requires little attention.

Herb Baked Corn in Husks

6 ears fresh Florida corn
1/4 cup butter or margarine

1 teaspoon Italian seasoning

1 teaspoon parsley flakes

1/2 teaspoon salt

1/8 teaspoon ground black pepper

Carefully remove some of the outer husks from corn leaving several inner leaves attached. Carefully pull back remaining leaves part way. Remove silks from corn, leaving kernels exposed. In a small saucepan melt butter. Stir in Italian seasoning, parsley flakes, salt and black pepper. Brush mixture over corn kernels. Pull husks back over corn; tie with cord or strong thread. Place in a baking pan; cover with aluminum foil. Bake in a preheated 350-degree oven until corn is cooked, about 25 minutes. Corn wrapped in foil may be placed at sides of grille in covered charcoal broiler. Turn after 10 minutes. Makes 6 portions.

Use spice to flavor marinade

Marinades, to be successful, should have not only the right oil and acid balance, but should be spiced to enhance the food they bathe. Either whole or ground spices and herbs may be used in a marinade, but, if whole spices are used, the release of their flavor should be started by heating briefly. Ground spices may be used in cold marinades, ones which needn't be heated.

In beef or lamb marinades use plenty of the luster spices — black pepper, bay leaf, thyme, cloves, caraway seed. For chicken or turkey you'll want ginger, rosemary or tarragon in addition to the usual pepper. Seafood marinades call for aromatic seeds such as dill, celery or fennel.

Often we want to marinate vegetables such as cooked green beans, potatoes to be used in a salad, cucumbers, celery. Here herbs are particularly good — basil, marjoram, tarragon or parsley flakes.

To make a small amount of marinade go a long way, do fit the meat into the smallest bowl possible; this will raise the level of the marinade higher on the meat. Remember that thin strips of meat need less time in a marinade than compact cuts. Kebabs need only an hour or two, while an 8-pound roast should be marinated at least 24 hours.
